WHAT: Art After Dark at the San Luis Obispo Railroad Museum
WHEN: Friday, August 2, 2019 from 6-9 PM (admission is free)
WHERE: San Luis Obispo Railroad Museum, 1940 Santa Barbara Ave, SLO (Free parking)

Art After Dark returns to the San Luis Obispo Railroad Museum and partners with McConnell’s for an “Ice Cream Social” theme just perfect for a warm summer night in San Luis Obispo.

Joins us on Friday, August 2nd for some of the finest railroad-themed art and enjoy ice cream from McConnell’s of Santa Barbara, who’ve opened a new ice cream parlor in San Luis Obispo. Inside, view the art and all of the museum displays including the fabulous HO scale model railroad. Then step outside and find McConnell’s “Big Blue” mobile ice-cream truck parked in front. Taste the free samples from their extensive selection of mouth-watering flavors and when you find your favorite, it will be available for purchase. Coupons for future McConnell’s discounts will be given to patrons that night. Ice cream and art make the perfect “dessert” for a warm summer evening.

Artists on display are: Dennis Gisler, Jonathan Haile, Glen Matteson, Jeff Perry, Joan Sullivan Brent MacGregor and Alan Upshaw. There will also be an “old fashioned” 35mm photo slide show from David Weisman. Jamie Foster and Phil Loarie will make use of large screen video projection for both photography and experimental video art—a feature not seen in many traditional galleries.

Make it a family-friendly Art After Dark...bring the kids so they can enjoy the sweet treats from McConnell’s Ice Cream and then play in our “Thomas the Train” themed gallery.

The SLO Railroad Museum has ample free parking and admission to the entire Museum on this special evening will be free!

The address is: 1940 Santa Barbara Ave. San Luis Obispo. CA 93401.
